

SARAH BODNER, PHD

Equipping Leaders for Success

Dr. Bodner tips the scales of toxic leadership ... equipping leaders with the tools to work through the complex & difficult realities of executive leadership.

She is a coach and trusted advisor to executives leading primarily in Fortune 500 companies. As their confidant, she has the privilege of having a front row seat to their professional reality and viewpoint. It has given her a deep understanding of the realities of executive leadership.

A former corporate executive, she knows first-hand the complexity of guiding an organization through a rapidly changing environment ... while maintaining employee morale, growing revenues, and dealing with office politics.

As a speaker, Dr Bodners takes a real-world approach, providing deep insights and practical tools to help her audience lead in a way that is healthy and constructive.

She is an engaging speaker who has spoken at TEDx, large corporations, exclusive networking groups, and a variety of conferences and professional associations.

She holds a Ph.D. in Industrial / Organizational Psychology.

sbodner@TheFeatherstoneGroup.com

www.TheFeatherstoneGroup.com

Linkedin.com/in/sarahbodner

SPEAKING TOPICS

The Art of Political Savvy

How to play office politics in a healthy, constructive manner

Developing the Lady Boss

Overcoming gender related challenges women leaders face

The Power of Influence

While critical, few leaders understand how to influence

Accountability

You don't have to lower expectations to be kind and caring

Executive Presence

It is so much more than how you show up in a room

Wielding Power with Grace

How to wisely use the power that naturally accompanies leadership